THIRD IN A SERIES

This is the third part of a series on how government works in Hancock County. The series will run in the Echo on consecutive Sundays.

County government at work

BY ED LEPOMA

Eddie Murtagh is 75 and still comes to his office each morning with a bounce in his walk.

"That's because I love my job," says Hancock County's longtime tax assessor/collector. "And, I've got the best people in the world working with me."

Looking back over a career that so far has spanned 20 years, Murtagh said, "I sit in wonder and amazement that God, in his infinite wisdom, took a jackass off a peanut truck (he worked for Tom's Peanuts), and put him in charge of a million dollar business."

Murtagh gave up the peanut route in 1972 to accept an offer to apprentice under then-assessor George Heitzman. He worked under Heitzman for six years, then decided to run for the countywide elected office when Heitzman retired in 1978 with two years left in his term.

The election was a cliffhanger with Murtagh, a Democrat and Bay St. Louis native, defeating his good friend, Clarence Lee, by a slim 20-vote margin. Murtagh has been re-elected continuously since then although he has faced opposition in all but one re-election campaign. During his career, he has also served as president of the Mississippi State Assessor/Collector Association.

You might say the Tax Assessor's operation is the grease that runs the wheel of county government. Murtagh's 16 employees are responsible for annually collecting over $18 million in real, personal, motor vehicle, public utility and mobile home taxes, and issue over 3,000 motor vehicle tags each month. For the job he oversees, Murtagh's annual salary, set by the legislature, is $45,126, and his department is among the most efficient and streamlined in county government.

In fact, for the coming fiscal year, Murtagh has cut his budget by $30,000. "If I don't have it, I don't spend it," he says.

The assessor prepared a synopsis of his department's operation and walked the Echo through the various offices.

"This is a one-stop operation," said Murtagh. "Here, people in Waveland, Bay St. Louis and the entire county can pay their property taxes and other taxes and get their license tags, too. They also can get information on property they're interested in buying."

The assessor/tax collector's office is located at 161 Main Street at the corner of Second Street in downtown

Casino World decision bringing mixed comments

BY ED LEPOMA

Opponents to the Casino World project planned in Hancock County south of Diamondhead were happy this week over a decision not to extend a bottomlands agreement, but the developers say they fully expect to obtain a Tidelands lease from the state.

Events took an unexpected turn of events on Thursday when a delegation from Hancock County went to Jackson for what turned out to be a brief half-hour meeting with Secretary of State Eric Clark.

Clark refused to extend an agreement which was made three years ago between the then-Secretary of State, the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, and the Mississippi Gaming Corp. That agreement is due to expire

Nov. 30.

Nonnie deBardeleben, who represents Concerned Citizens to Protect the Point and Isles called the decision by Clark "very courageous."

"I know it is something he has anguish over for a long time," she said. "He feels this particular area is sensitive, and it is not in the best interest of the people of this state to extend the lease," said deBardeleben.

Clark's office was quick to point out that the agreement was not actually a Tidelands lease, but the pact signed three years ago gave the Port and Harbor exclusive rights to negotiate the price for leasing approximately 10.25 acres of waterbottoms adjacent to the

Local flooding

Driving rain and southeast winds caused flooding in most low-lying areas of Hancock County by Friday. This photo shows flooding in Waveland off McLaurin where the state is building housing to provide community living for 20 mildly retarded individuals. County Civil Defense Director Lynette Carbon was watching the flooding situation on Friday, but said no shelters had been opened and no one needed to be evacuated. (Echo staff photo by B.R. Hawkins)

Moran defends 'no raise' policy

BY ED LEPOMA

Board of Supervisors President Philip Moran is the first to admit he's encountered criticism from Hancock County residents after Sheriff's Department employees complained they were not getting raises next year.

"The fact of the matter is no county employee is getting a raise," said Moran. "I'm the first to agree that they (sheriff's department employees) should get a raise," said Moran. "But, the supervisors do not set the salaries of employees, that's up to department heads."

Moran said supervisors didn't single out only the sheriff's department when they began budget deliberations. "We sent every department head a letter two months before, telling each of them there would be no increase in their budgets," said Moran.

Moran had a printout when he came to the Echo offices on Friday that showed since 1996, the Sheriff's Department budget has grown $1 million, from $2.4 million to the present $3.4 million.

He said from comments made

Coffee and tours

Bay-Waveland schools host parent/principal coffees and tours on Thursday mornings at each campus. The coffees, themed "The Time Has Come To Get Involved", provide an opportunity for parents to meet with principals to discuss school activities, as well as tour facilities and see how they might become more involved at their children's school. Meeting at Bay Middle School Thursday were, from left, Peggy Davis, Lisa Dailey, Leslie Spring, Bay Middle Parent Center Coordinator, Barbara Davis, Principal Lily DeBlieux and Tabitha Collins. ## Mandatory dialing for 228 area code begins Monday

The new 228 area code will be required for calls to telephone numbers in the Gulf Coast LATA beginning Sept. 14.

The date marks the beginning of mandatory dialing when callers must dial the new 228 area code. A year-long permissive dialing period began Sept. 15, 1997 when either the 601 or 228 area code could be used.

The transition period gave customers the opportunity to become accustomed to the new area code in order to change any equipment which must be reprogrammed, such as PBX equipment, fax machines, cellular telephones or speed dialing equipment. It also allowed additional time to get printed materials updated and to notify business associates, clients, vendors, friends and relatives of the change.

City pays additional drainage expenses

BY MARY G. SEILEY

City officials agreed Wednesday to an unexpected $45,000 cost in drainage improvements.

The money was cut from a proposed drainage contract in July, during a negotiation stage. But the savings didn't make it into a signed contract fast enough.

Officials said Wednesday that while they'd negotiated with Colom Construction Co. for a lower price on the project than Colom bid originally, that lower price tag had risen by some $45,000 recently.

Even as they authorized the new contract amount of $2,761,196, City Council members questioned how the bill could have risen before the document had been signed.

Colom had agreed in July to cut some $240,000 off its bids for the second phase of drainage construction work, in part because the city has found other ways to have some of the work done, officials said.

In addition, city officials said Colom agreed to cut its price for certain materials covered under the contract.

Project engineer James Chiche had outlined the $240,000 savings agreed to by

Correction

Lora Mederos, Hancock County's Human Resources director, said last Sunday's Echo story on the budget erred, saying the agencies she oversees were given $10,000 more in the proposed 1998-99 budget.

"All we got was $6,400, the pro-rata share of our cost for a new bus that will be used partly by senior citizens and partly by the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center," she said.

Clarification

In last Sunday's article on the workings of the Circuit Clerk's office, the Echo unintentionally omitted Clerk Pam Metzler's annual salary.

In 1997, Metzler reported a salary of $76,160 ranking her below Circuit Clerks in Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties.

Raises — Moran defends

in the recent public hearing on the budget, it appears that all Sheriff's department employees were starting out at $5.50 an hour. But, that salary is only the entry level paid to correctional officers, Moran said.

A deputy starts out at $14,500 a year, and that amounts to $6.97 an hour, Moran said.

"The sheriff can use the money we give him any way he wants to," said Moran. "If that means working with less deputies and paying them better or making cuts somewhere else in his budget, that's for him to decide."

Moran also furnished the Echo a copy of Wednesday's daily Clarion Ledger newspaper, which gave a countywide look at the number of deputies and jailers being used at facilities throughout the state and the average inmate population of each county jail.

That chart shows Harrison County policing a jail population that averages 850 inmates with 90 jailers, and there are 47 deputies on its workforce.

In Hancock, the Clarion Ledger roundup claimed there were 24 deputies on duty and 45 jailers were being used to police a jail population that is at capacity with 130 inmates.

"That's ridiculous. I don't know where they're getting those figures," said Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, contacted by the Echo Friday. "As of this moment, we have 18 fulltime deputies, and some parttime. And, we have 10 fulltime correctional officers and 10 parttime. The jail population is right. We're at capacity, with 130 inmates," said Peterson.

Taylor dismayed at report

U.S. Representative Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis, was very disappointed that the proposal before the House on Friday will only allow release of a small portion of Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr's report regarding President Clinton's relationship with Monica Lewinsky.

Taylor in a news release said, "All of the evidence should be made public. The American taxpayers have invested over $40 million in the acquisition of this report. The information in the Starr report and other evidence does not deal with national security. The American people have the right to see every bit of the evidence and make their own conclusions."

"Yesterday, along with several other of my colleagues in the House, I signed a letter to Speaker of the House Gingrich asking that we be given the opportunity to offer a resolution to immediately make the entire report and evidence available to the public. Unfortunately, last night the House Rules Committee voted that our resolution would not be an option," Taylor added.

Expenses — City will pay

Colom, and City Council had authorized a contract to be signed.

Recently, however, city officials said Colom couldn't stand behind about $45,000 of the cuts the firm had agreed to because the cost of materials has risen and the contract hasn't been signed.

Council member Carleen Moran asked several questions trying to determine who was responsible for the delay that left the city with a higher contract price.

Council President Tad Black said Colom contends it wasn't given a copy of City Council minutes that pertained to the lower price initially discussed.

Colom also has the city contract for the first phase of the work. Including a series of change orders, that phase is costing the city $1.5 million.

In a related matter, council member Connie Lamplay said city officials had hoped to negotiate with Colom to incorporate the third and final phase of the drainage upgrade into the second leg of the project, hopefully saving some money and expediting completion of the entire project.

But city leaders said that turned out to be impossible under state law, which requires separate bids to be let on the third phase before the work is authorized.

Mayor Eddie Favre said officials hope to have bids in hand for the last segment of work by mid November.

And he openly complained about the series of delays and setbacks the entire project has seen, blaming it in large part on the city's battles with CSX over rights-of-way, and disputes with private property owners over easements.

Favre said the city began working on a comprehensive drainage upgrade program in 1993 or 1994.

The program, he said, has "taken a lot more time than we had estimated. We have gotten very little, if any, cooperation from CSX and local folks," he said. "We've had delay after delay after delay...It's sad. It really is."

Council member James Thriffley said he's asked the administration to provide a breakdown on costs of the easements and legal work associated with them. "When we look at those figures, people are going to gag," he said, estimating that an "amazing...staggering" amount of the city's drainage funds have been consumed by non-construction costs.

The city's drainage upgrade program was to be financed through a $5.5 million general obligation bond issue, but officials are saying that money won't be enough to complete the entire package.

To proceed to completion, city officials have funneled financing for some costs of the project to other sources. For instance, the proposed 1999 fiscal budget has a $1.2 million supplement included for drainage.

The county has agreed to help the city with some repaving, says Favre. And the utility fund will be tapped to pay for some utility relocations and repairs, rather than the drainage bond issue.

Final passage of the city's proposed budget is set for Sept. 15, in a special recess meeting.

Meanwhile, officials authorized advertisement of bids for the second phase of construction of the Ulman Street pier. Favre said those bids will be opened Oct. 19.

"CUEVAS" QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Mark your calendars for Thursday, September 17, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours.

The sponsor is Universal Storage, Inc., of Diamondhead.

Universal Storage, Inc., is new in Diamondhead and is owned and operated by Charles Johnson.

Universal Storage's location is 5402 Gex Drive behind Burger King, Diamondhead.

A ribbon cutting will be held at 4:30 p.m. prior to the Business After Hours.

Since Charles Johnson and I are natives of Waveland, I have known him for most of my life. He tells me that he will have some good food and refreshments for the Business After Hours.

By the way, Charles built our home for us in 1963.

The event is open to chamber members and guests. Admission is two business cards, which will be used for the drawing of door prizes.

I hope to see you Thursday at the ribbon cutting and Chamber's Business After Hours.

On Thursday and Friday I watched the storm birds gliding over our coastline in Bay St. Louis.

I realize they are said to be very light in weight, and wind currents keep them in the air, but they sure must get tired of staying in the air after gliding hours after hours.

News reports indicate that most of Texas and Louisiana's coastlines received very heavy rains from Tropical Storm Frances.

We got our share of rain, but nothing like the reports I have been hearing from New Orleans where flooding is reported to be very heavy.

We started the year off with plenty of rain, then we had a long hot dry spell and now it seems the rains are catching up.

As I have said before, we write and talk about the weather, but for sure we cannot do anything about it.

The Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau's big summer promotion titled "Go Fish" will end Monday with the drawing of the lucky winner set for 11 a.m. Monday at the Hancock County Welcome Center on Interstate 10.

Beth Carriere reports there have been hundreds of entries from some 23 states who qualified with a "Fishing License" which caused them to visit numerous sites in the county.

The four-month promotion has been a big success, and I am sure the Tourism Development Bureau is already with their plans for next year's promotion event to bring more folks in our county.

It is anybody's guess as to who and where they will be from—who will be the winners of the Bass boat, motor, trailer, fish-finder and trolling motor.

We should find out on Monday.

Law You Can Use

A Public Service of The Mississippi Bar

The Responsibilities of Vehicle Drivers

Receiving a license to drive an automobile or other motorized vehicle comes with important responsibilities for the driver. Motorists have an obligation to their passengers, pedestrians, and other vehicles to drive in a responsible manner.

The law requires that a driver use reasonable care when driving a vehicle. Negligence is the failure to drive with such care and is often the basis for liability in an accident.

The reasonable care standard also applies to encounters with pedestrians. While the law usually assigns pedestrians the right of way when crossing streets or similar situations, motorists are not expected to anticipate pedestrian movements. However, drivers should look out for individuals and honk the horn to alert an unsuspecting pedestrian.

Drivers are also responsible for taking the proper care concerning the safety of their passengers. However, the driver is not liable if a passenger is injured through no fault of the driver.

When a vehicle owner is a passenger in his or her own car, the law views the owner as still in control. If the motorist drives irresponsibly, the owner is expected to intervene.

When a vehicle owner allows another person to drive the car, some legal responsibility may still exist for the owner. Liability in an accident can consist of personal injuries—including death—and vehicle or property damage. If an owner allows a driver who is incompetent—because of inexperience or intoxication—to operate the vehicle, the owner could be held liable in any accident that occurs. If an owner allows someone to drive his vehicle, which he knows to be defective, the owner may have liability in an accident.

If you hit a parked car, you are responsible for notifying the owner. Leaving a written note with your name, vehicle description, and car tag number will suffice.

In the case of any accident in which injuries or damage occurs, you should notify the police and, as soon as possible, your insurance company.

Having a driver's license and operating a vehicle are privileges that come with legal responsibilities for the safety and care of you, your passengers, other motorists, and pedestrians. Knowing these obligations and practicing reasonable care in driving helps ensure safety on the roadways and decreases the chance of accidents.

Law You Can Use is a weekly feature offered as a public service of The Mississippi Bar and this newspaper. If you have a specific question on this or another legal subject, please contact a local attorney.

Taylor announces COPS grant for school related crime

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor recently announced that the City of Bay St. Louis and the Waveland School District have been awarded a $68,170 COPS grant award under the COPS School-Based Partnership (SBPG).

Funding under this grant will provide law enforcement an opportunity to work with schools and community organizations to address school related crime.

"This grant is great news for Bay St. Louis and the Waveland School District" said Taylor. "These funds will help coordinate efforts between law officers and teachers to prevent crime in our schools. Students shouldn't have to fear for their safety or deal with disruptive or criminal behavior in their classrooms. Our schools should be a place for learning."

Communities receiving the SBPG COPS grants from the Justice Department must focus on one primary school related crime or disorder problem which occurs around an elementary or secondary school.

The City of Bay St. Louis and the Waveland School District will develop a specific response to a school related crime problem and will then assess the impact of those responses.

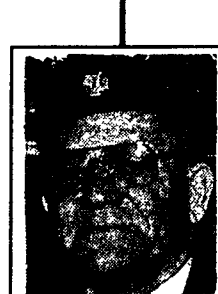

Taylor said the grant awarded does not require any local matching funds.

House bills would rescue retirees caught between two health plans

Some military retirees and dependents are caught between restrictions to the civilian government's Medicare Part B, which includes outpatient costs, and the military's Tricare program of managed care, resulting in a loss of health benefits.

Reps. Henry Bonilla (R-TX) and Norman Dicks (D-WA) introduced a bill June 25th that waives the penalty for military retirees who didn't sign up for Part B at age 65 because they believed the Pentagon would provide free care for life.

"This bill rights a wrong and keeps our promises to military retirees," Bonilla said. "This bill makes it possible for all military retirees to have a chance to participate in Tricare Senior Prime."

Rep. Jo Ann H. Emerson (R-MO) introduced a similar bill the same day, waiving the 10 percent penalty for late enrollment in Medicare Part B services.

"The men and women of our military made a promise to uphold and protect our nation, and many of them were told by recruiters that they wouldn't have to worry about their future," Emerson said.

"Now those same military retirees are realizing that just isn't the case, and the promises are ringing hollow and empty across the nation."

The Bonilla bill also establishes Medicare reimbursement in six cities intended to show reimbursement to the military for health care won't be more expensive than it is now. The bottom line is that the bill is trying through Medicare reimbursement to prevent military hospitals from reducing care to those who are more dependent on the military health care system.

When free military care for life proved not to be true, many retirees decided after 65 that they wanted Medicare Part B, in part because of the Pentagon's health care restrictions included in Tricare.

Tricare provides treatment for those 65 years or older under Medicare Part B only on a space-available basis, reducing access for others. The Pentagon contends that available hospital space for these retirees will not decrease over time.

Retirees can pay extra for treatment under Tricare Part B rules, but the penalty is high. With Tricare, these retirees got a rude awakening under managed care. The result is that many of them who can't afford the stiff penalties must be placed on a space-available list for their medical problems.

The six-city demonstration program would begin at the end of the year at Brooke Army Medical Center and Wilford Hall Medical Center in San Antonio and four other facilities.

Under the program, Medicare would be asked to reimburse the Pentagon for care given to a retiree or dependent over 65 even if he or she didn't sign up for Medicare Part B when he or she had the chance.

How Do You Measure the Growth of A Child?

Unfortunately for children living in some of the poorest countries in the world, it takes more than fading marks on a wall.

Childreach, one of the oldest and largest child sponsorship organizations, measures growth by the number of hospitals, wells for clean water, and self-help programs we build in partnership with the proud families and communities where our sponsored children live.

Childreach is not a quick fix or a handout. It is child sponsorship at its best—a caring, continuing relationship that leads to measurable progress over time.

So when you become a Childreach sponsor and receive pictures and letters that speak of hope, you'll know that you have helped to make a real difference in the lives of a needy child, family, and community overseas.

Constitution Week participation sought

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
The Friendship Oak Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, seeks general public participation in the celebration of Constitution Week, September 17-19. Mary Cassis, Constitution Week chapter chairman, said, "We encourage everyone to fly the American flag all week and especially to ring bells on September 17. We are asking churches to ring their bells at 3 p.m.

thereby taking part in Bells Across America."

"Bells Across America is a simultaneous ringing of bells across the country (4 p.m. in the Eastern Time zone) so that we may hear the sound of freedom ring," Cassis added.

The celebrating Constitution Week seems a timely thing to do inasmuch as the Constitution is being quoted so very much in the Hall of Congress right now, Cassis said.

Tigers beat Dogs, 14-12

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

Bay High Tiger Varsity football team claimed its first victory of the season with a 14-12 win over the Vancleave Bulldogs Friday at J. D. McCullough Stadium. A rain storm, a muddy, slushy field and a late fourth quarter Bulldog drive all appeared to threaten their pursuit of a victory, but the Tigers would not be denied.

I'm numb," said Tiger Coach David Baughman after the game. "We've worked really hard to turn the corner. A win means everything to us right now. This will boost our confidence going into district play. We played three quarters tonight and we've put together two good second halves - including last week."

"We were concerned about their size," he said. "They are by far the biggest kids we've played against. Our front four penetration was by far the key to our win tonight. I am very pleased with our defense tonight (the physical aspect). We used our quickness to our advantage."

It took the Tigers just over three quarters to put points on the scoreboard, but when they got going, they did exactly what they needed to do. They scored. In fact, the Tigers scored two touchdowns in less than a minute and a half.

The first score followed a Bulldog fumble recovered by Steven Boudro at the Bulldog 35-yard line. On third down, QB Ty Barrett executed an inside trap to Rendell Haynes who carried the ball, practically untouched, 29 yards for a score.

The following play proved to be the difference in the game. The Tigers went for the two-point conversion and were tremendously successful on a reverse to senior tailback Tony Benton. Running to his left, keeping his balance in the mud and three inches of water, Benton beat defenders to the goal line. The Tigers led 8-6.

"That was by far the best play of the game," said Baughman. "They had been showing blitz all night. We caught them off guard."

On the first play from scrimmage, on the ensuing series, junior Tony Davis picked off a Bulldog pass and returned it about 14 yards to the Vancleave 18-yard line. Barrett dropped back and launched a perfectly timed pass to the left side hitting junior receiver Ronald Brown just inside the end zone for a score.

The Tigers attempted to kick the extra point which would have put the game virtually out of reach, but the kick was blocked. The Tigers led 14-6.

Bay High went into a prevent defense on a late fourth quarter drive by the Bulldogs from their 10-yard line with only 1:37 left in the game.

Chad Pylate took over the helm for Vancleave and successfully guided his team's attack, completing four passes and moving the ball to the Tigers 11-yard line. Pylate followed his center into the end zone for a score. Tigers 14 Bulldogs 12.

The Bulldogs two-point conversion was spoiled. The Tiger's positioned 350-pound senior Thomas Beebe at the nose guard tackle slot to congest the middle. The strategy worked as 270-pound junior tackle Bert Hopgood managed to penetrate the line of scrimmage, sacking Pylate four yards behind the line of scrimmage, securing the Tiger win.

"They completed only the short passes," Baughman explained. The Tiger's defensive strategy on the Bulldog last drive. "We didn't want to give up the big play. And they took just what we gave them."

The Tigers hope to build on this win as they take their 1-2 record to Poplarville Friday, Sept. 18.

Pass Christian Pirates drown beneath St. John's scoring deluge

BY DWAYNE BREMER

The only things that pelted down harder than the rain drops at Francis McDonald Stadium, Friday night were the touchdowns by the St. John Eagles, as they drowned the Pass Christian Pirates 54-13.

"We didn't tackle very well. We didn't execute on offense or defense," said Pirate Coach Gavin Lott.

The Eagles did not waste any time getting started. After taking the opening kickoff they went 80 yards in six plays for their first score. Matthew D'Angelo took a toss sweep 12 yards for the touchdown. Jay Fitzgerald added the point after and the Eagles had an early 7-0 lead.

The Pirates answered with a nice drive of their own. Starting at the 33, Rashad Bowser had consecutive runs to get the ball to midfield. Quarterback Jack Wilson then connected with Jeffery May for a 34-yard strike to the 16. After a sack, the Pirates reached into their bag of tricks, pulling out a halfback pass. Bowser took the pitch, went left and then threw to Calvin Woods, who drug an Eagle defender with him into the end zone. Brad Dewitt added the point after, and the score was noted at 7-7.

The Pirate defense forced a turnover on the next Eagle drive. With the Eagles deep in Pirate territory, Dewitt stripped the ball from D'Angelo and Rashad Bowser recovered at the Pirate five yard line.

The Pirates were unable to move the ball and St. John took over at the 40 after a punt.

Eagle Quarterback Danny Courtney connected with Jordan Karetas for 28 yards, and then Thomas Whitfield took a pitch 11 yards, to the one. The Eagles cashed in from there as John Brogdon scored the touchdown. Fitzgerald added the point after, and the Eagles enjoyed a 14-7 lead.

SSC football postponed

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The football game between the St. Stanislaus Rockaways and the Long Beach Bearcats was postponed from Friday night to Saturday night at Lance Lumpkin Field in Long Beach.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson stated, "The game has been postponed to the same time and place on Saturday due to the weather problem at the time and the approaching storm."

At press time the game between the two schools was in progress.

Full coverage with pictures and story will appear in the Thursday, September 17 edition of the paper.

The Pirates kept the Eagles out of the end zone for the rest of the second quarter, and the half-time score remained 14-7.

The Pirates took the second half kickoff, and started at the 32. On third and 17, Wilson hit Erin Landry for 21 yards, and a first down to the 47. On the next play Bowser fumbled, and the Eagles recovered at the 45.

The Eagles only took two plays to score. Courtney ran for nine yards on an option, then threw over the middle, for Dwayne Carter. Courtney's pass was underthrown, but Carter made a great one-handed catch, and then scampered all the way to the end zone for a 36-yard touchdown. Fitzgerald added the point after, and the Eagles now had a 21-7 lead.

After the next Pirate drive stalled, the Eagles took over at their own 35. The Eagles drove 8 plays and 55 yards down to the Pirate 10. Charles Harris scored the Eagles fourth touchdown. Fitzgerald added the point after, and with 3:30 left in the third, the Eagles had built a 28-7 lead.

The Eagles wasted little time in getting another touchdown. On the Pirates next possession Wilson threw over the middle, and was intercepted by D'Angelo at the 35. D'Angelo broke a tackle, and then took it back the distance, to increase the Eagle lead, and break the Pirates back. Fitzgerald added the point after, and the score was now 35-7.

The Pirates were unable to move the ball, on their next possession, and the Eagles took over again at their own 24.

Courtney dropped back, and launched a bomb down the right sideline. Ryan Knowles caught the pass in stride at the Pirate 35, and ran all the way to the end zone for a 76-yard touchdown pass. The point after failed, but the Eagles had extended the lead to 41-7.

Things did not get any better for the Pirates. On the first play, after the kickoff, the Eagles recovered a Pirate fumble at the Pirate 15.

Three plays later Don Harrien took it in from two-yards out. The point after failed, and with 9:26 left to go the score was 47-7.

The Pirates then began to move the ball. Robert Isabelle gained five, then Bowser picked up 14, to give the Pirates a first down at the 49. Bowser then picked up seven yards on two consecutive plays, to give the Pirates a first down at the 35. After a sack, disaster struck again as Wilson was picked off by Thomas Whitfield. Whitfield took the interception back 71 yards for the Eagles eight touchdown of the game. Fitzgerald added the point after, and the score was now 54-7.

The Pirates did manage to salvage a little pride on their next possession. Isabelle ran for 11 yards, and then 4 yards to the 40. Sophomore Andrew Moffett scampered 60 yards for a Pirate touchdown. The Pirates were unsuccessful on the two-point try, and the score was now 54-13.

The Eagles ran out the clock after the kickoff, and the Pirates suffered their second straight loss.

"I don't believe that the last two weeks, are a true indication of our ball club. We are better than what we showed, tonight. St. John is a much better team than they were last year, and we just didn't match them in the second half," said Lott.

A bright spot for the Pirates was the running of Rashad Bowser who had 118 yards on 18 carries, along with throwing a 20-yard touchdown.

The Pirates record is now 1-2. The Pirates will travel to Greene County next week.

Wildcats lose big to Lions, 48-10

Pearl River Community College fell to 0-2 in Scobba last Thursday with a stunning 48-10 non-division football loss to East Mississippi.

The Wildcats, coming off a 28-12 loss to Itawamba in Sept. 3's season opener, hung tough for nearly the entire first quarter, but Coach Tom Goode's Lions reeled off seven touchdowns — four by former Starkville High standout Carl Fair — on their ensuing nine series to take the lopsided victory.

EMCC, which entered the game off a 16-9 loss to defending state champion Hinds in its season opener, improved to 1-1 overall.

Wildcat head coach Keith Daniels said the Lions' extreme physical play wore his team down.

"And we didn't help our defensive people out with our ineffective offense. It was just one of those situations that we were whipped by a good football team," Daniels said. "With our inconsistent offense, it got to the point that our defense was completely worn down."

Fair, a multi-talented sophomore running back who finished the night with 228 total offensive yards (106 rush, 122 receiving), scored on runs of 55 and 36 yards and had TD receptions for 49 and 73 yards from freshman quarterback Timmy Lawson. Fair's first score came with 28 seconds left in the first period, then he added a three more TDs in the second and third periods.

Some five minutes into the second quarter, freshman WR-P Greg Mitchell of Picayune had a punt blocked from the back of the Wildcat endzone, and Lion LB Tim Johnson snatched the careening ball in mid-air at the 10 and scooted in for EMCC's third score of the night.

East Miss' final score came with 5:29 left in the third when RB Jo Jo Minor scored from the one after the Lions recovered a fumble at the Wildcat 17. Lion PK Sean McMillan converted on four of six PATs (one blocked by DB Patrick Walker), while Fair added a two-point conversion run.

The Wildcats finally got on the scoreboard when PK Nando Lopes capped a seven-play, 63-yard drive with a 25-yard field goal with 45 seconds left in the third. With 14:02 left in the game, sophomore DE Chris Gist recovered a Lion fumble at the Lion 40.

Eight plays later, freshman QB Sedrick Samuel scored on an 18-yard run. Lopes added the PAT.

The Wildcats finished with 10 first downs (six via run, two via pass, two via penalty) and 172 total yards (85 rush, 87 pass). Freshman RB Jimmie Rax paced the Wildcats with 72 yards on 12 carries, while Samuel had 32 yards on three totes and completed one of six passes for 50 yards to freshman WR Chris Marshall of Petal late in the third quarter.

Freshman QB Derrell Burkett completed three of seven passes for 37 yards — all to former Purvis High teammate WR Desmond Bolar. Mitchell punted eight times for a 37-yard average, but had impressive boots of 51, 48 and 46. His partially blocked punt went for only 10 yards.

A 7 p.m. kickoff is set for the PRCC-Mississippi Delta contest today in Moorhead.

Weekend was big for McLeod

BY ROLAND LEE

We at McLeod Park had another great weekend with approximately 2,491 visitors coming out for the three-day Labor Day holiday.

Everything went well with no problems, and a lot of fishing, eating, camping and boating going on all weekend.

The water patrol was in effect for the entire weekend, and reported everyone was having fun, with very few violations on the Jourdan River. We at McLeod Park are proud of the job the deputies do for us, and thanks goes to the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Talking about fishing, we had some nice catches over the weekend. Bryan Brown landed a nice bass measuring two-feet long, and weighing in at seven pounds. And, my grandson, Trey Lee, hauled in a nice catfish with his rod and reel and it tipped the scales at approximately six pounds. Folks caught fish of all species because the weather was great.

Also had a great time Sunday afternoon with a local band playing for all campers and visitors to enjoy. Mr. Bernie McKay, Mr. Young and other band members provided some nice music, and we thank all the band members.

We are looking forward to October when we again stage our annual hay ride and haunted house. I will let you know later on the date and time, and everyone is invited to this free event. We look forward to having everyone out and bringing their family.

That about wraps things up for another holiday, and we at McLeod enjoy having all of you come out to camp, fish, picnic or just go for a boat ride. Come see us soon.

proving the merger.

"We look forward to being able to grow Casino Magic with Hollywood Park and capitalize on the expansion opportunities this combined operation will generate," said Marlin F. ## September 14 is D-Day for local cellular phones

Thousands of Coast residents are likely to lose cellular service Sept. 14, a leading cellular provider predicts. That's the date of expiration for the PCC's "Permissive Dialing Period," which allows usage of the old 601 area code for the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

"About 20 percent of the cellular users along the Coast and in neighboring counties are going to lose service if they have not had their cell phone reprogrammed with the new 228 area code," said Jana Ray, Cellular South advertising and marketing manager.

The permissive dialing period for using the 601 area code on the Gulf Coast will expire Sept. 13 at midnight. At that time all cellular phones not reprogrammed with the new 228 area code will be without service until they are reprogrammed.

In addition to other communication efforts to inform people of the chance, Cellular South has inserted a three-second message on outgoing calls of cellular customers who have not yet had their phone reprogrammed.

People who attempt to use their cellular phone after Sept. 14, but have failed to have it reprogrammed, will hear a recorded message that their service has been suspended until they have their phone reprogrammed. Once the recording ends, the phone will go to dead air.

"To have a cellular phone reprogrammed today takes about 10 minutes. After Sept. 14, we can't promise you there won't be a line," said Ray.

The FCC changed the Coastal area code in September of 1997. The chance was necessary because Mississippi needed more phone numbers.

The change affects all cellular companies and subscribers in Harrison, Hancock and Jackson counties.

Other changes are taking place as well.

Beginning Sept. 14, land line and cellular customers calling from within the 228 area code will be required to dial the area code with the phone number to calls outside the 228 area code.

Although cellular customers will not pay long distance fees for calls to Stone County, they will need to dial the 601 area code, and vice versa. Land line calls to numbers outside the 228 area code are subject to long distance fees, said Ray.

Cellular South is a privately held company that employs more than 350 people throughout Mississippi. It is the only telecommunications provider to receive the Mississippi Quality Award for Excellence.

Chamber News

Business After Hours

The next Business After Hours will be at Universal Storage in Diamondhead Thursday, Sept. 17, 5-7 p.m. There will be a ribbon cutting and grand opening of Universal Storage at 4:30 p.m., just before the After Hours.

Universal Storage is located at 5402 Gex Drive in Diamondhead behind Burger King. The event is open to Chamber members and their guests. Admission is two business cards.

Phone Book Recycling

The Chamber will soon kick off its annual Phone Book Recycling Drive. For the past several years, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has sponsored the Telephone Directory Recycling Campaign for Hancock County.

Businesses contributing to the campaign will be listed as a sponsor on all materials associated with this recycling program.

Last year's campaign was most successful with more than 82,000 directories collected coastwide by participating schools. It is hoped to increase that amount this year.

The schools earned over $22,000 for their efforts based on the number of books collected.

Participating Hancock County schools collected 7,566 books, earning $2,422 for their schools. The phone book recycling campaign will include all public and private schools on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. School officials agree that this is one of the greatest ways to teach environmental education as well as put money into local schools.

Stuffed Shirt workers may qualify for added benefits

Workers for Stuffed Shirt Inc. in Long Beach who lost their jobs may be eligible to receive payments and to qualify for reemployment services, the Mississippi Employment Security Commission (MESC) announced.

Employees of Stuffed Shirt, Inc. who were laid off or had hours reduced after Aug. 17, 1997 may be eligible to receive federal Trade Act benefits and to qualify for training, a job search allowance, and relocation payments under the program, said Johnny Conwill, director of the Unemployment Insurance Division of MESC.

Trade Act benefits are paid to workers who lose their job or whose hours of work and wages are reduced as a result of increased imports. The Stuffed Shirt workers produced women's denim apparel.

In June workers of the Stuffed Shirt Inc. plant in Pass Christian were approved to receive the same services. The Pass Christian employees made denim garments.

Usually, Trade Act benefits are paid after regular unemployment benefits are exhausted and if the individual is enrolled in a training program approved under the Act.

Workers who think they may be eligible for the Trade Act benefits should contact the nearest Unemployment Insurance office of MESC.

County — Government at work

Bay St. Louis, Murtagh explains the office is divided into four operations: mapping, appraisal, tax collections and computer.

"In order to appraise property, you must know its location, size, owner's name and its present use," said Murtagh.

He said the county's original mapping program was initiated about 17 years ago when the first aerial photographs were made of the county.

"The deeds recorded in the Chancery Clerk's office were applied to the maps, producing ownership maps," explained Murtagh. "In order to upgrade our system, our mapper reads every deed recorded in the Clerk's office and applies any changes to our maps," he adds.

Recently, the office completed a Geographical Information System (GIS) that has placed the county's mapping system into a computer format. "Usually, there are about 5,000 deeds recorded annually," said Murtagh. "These deeds are read and applied to our maps by our mapping specialist, Sarah Garcia."

The Appraisal Department has the responsibility for setting the value on approximately 46,000 parcels of property in Hancock County. The chief consultant on ad valorem (property) appraisals is E. Lee Bennett, and Candee Breaux serves as chief of the field appraisals. Both have been with Murtagh's office since 1980.

Ethel Poulton and Jamie Bennett serve as field appraisers, and Bennett also handles computer entry, along with Connie Strong.

"Two field appraisers must ride each road in order to locate new construction or additions to existing structures," Murtagh explains. "Each improvement to the property is measured to scale and recorded, together with other pertinent information, on a property record card."

The appraisers use a formula adopted by the State Tax Commission to determine property value, enter the information into the computer system, then these are reviewed by the appraisal staff. The completed data is also audited by the State Tax Commission.

Since Mississippi doesn't have a disclosure law, Murtagh said in order to determine land values, his staff compiles a record of land sales, then sends questionnaires to the buyer and seller in order to come up with an average price of each transaction.

The appraisal department also handles over 10,000 homestead exemptions annually during a three-month period from Jan. 1 to April 1 each year.

Three appraisers, Caroline Adam, Linda Fricke and Shirlene Odham, examine and record the inventories of some 1,500 businesses in the area in order to assess personal property taxes. The budget for this department is $490,000 annually.

"Their expertise consists of examining and recording inventories and entering it into the computer system," said Murtagh.

Adam also does the computer entry work to keep track of registration and taxation of more than 1,200 mobile homes in Hancock County.

The department's computer operations is the heartbeat of the county, and Sheila Dema joined that department in 1970 and continues to upgrade the system and helps oversee an annual budget of $116,000. She is assisted by Caroline Adam.

"We have an IBM RISC6000 System, and can access the offices of the Sheriff, the Chancery Clerk, and our own office," said Murtagh.

The importance of the system came to light just recently when it crashed just a day or two before the annual tax sale, and an IBM consultant was called in and paid $200 an hour to work 13 hours in order to get it back on line.

"The operator and assistant operator maintain, troubleshoot and back up the system on a daily basis," said Murtagh. "In addition, we protect the system with a U.P.S. surge protector which helps overcome electrical surges and power outages that could corrupt the system."

The Tax Collection Department has an annual budget of $320,000 that includes money for postage, printing in-house and other responsibilities. It employs nine deputies, who serve the public daily. Besides tax collections, the department also prints land rolls and tax receipts in-house.

Myra Hirstus is the chief bookkeeper and controller, and Helene Moran is the chief collector and deputy bookkeeper. They are assisted by Amie Emmons, Barbara Payne, Diantha Ladner, May Larson, Tracey Meranto, Veda Necaise, Susan Starita and Kathy Hurt.

"I like to think that all my personnel are courteous, professional and knowledgeable and enjoy their work," said Murtagh. "I like to think we're one big family."

He points to an in-house kitchen. "About once a month everybody brings a covered dish, and we sit around and eat together. It's a nice time for everybody," said Murtagh.

The assessor should know how to keep peace in a large family. Married to the former Beryl Bourgeois for 55 years, the Murtaghs have eight grown children, 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, with most living within driving distance of their hometown.

Casino

404-acre proposed Casino World Site, and would have given the P&H revenues amounting to about $450,000 annually.

However, the agreement stipulated that a casino must be "open and operating" by Nov. 30, 1998 or the waterbottoms would revert back to the state.

On Thursday, Supervisors Philip Moran and Steve Seymour, accompanied by P&H Executive Director, Hal Walters, went to Jackson, and met about 30 minutes with Clark, according to Walters.

"Basically, he told us, 'No, I'm not going to do it' (extend the agreement)," said Walters. "We were, of course, disappointed."

For some reason, Moran wanted to point out to the Echo that he was not meeting with Clark on behalf of the Board of Supervisors.

"I went up there as an individual, not as president of the Board of Supervisors, just as you could go up there yourself and make an appointment to see Clark," said Moran.

He said the P&H agreement for the waterbottoms was "the only one like it in the state," and added, "It's not written in stone." Moran said the Casino World site has been permitted and approved by all the regulatory federal and state agencies, and "the door is still open for negotiations" to go on between the developer and Clark's office, but the leasing revenues would now go to the state rather than directly to Hancock County.

Following the decision by Clark, David Blount, the Secretary of State's communications director, called the Echo to explain his boss's decision.

"It was obvious that the terms of the lease (agreement) were not going to be met and will expire Nov. 30, 1998," said Blount. He said suits filed by citizen and environmentalist groups who oppose the Casino World project was "one of the many factors involved in this decision," but not the chief reason.

"The Secretary of State is the guardian of the state's waterbottoms," said Blount. "And, at this time, he feels it is in the state's best interest not to extend the agreement with the Port and Harbor Commission. There is no hostility involved and no side being taken."

Deborah Vitale, chairman and president of the Board of Europa Cruises Corp., was contacted by the Echo at headquarters in Madeira, Fla., and said Clark's decision was based on a "technicality."

She explained, "I understand the Secretary of State is having technical problems with his predecessor's decision to enter into a memorandum of understanding with the Hancock County Port and Harbor Authority."

"This memorandum gave the Port and Harbor Authority the right to enter into a tidelands lease with Mississippi Gaming Corporation. The Secretary of State does not want to set a precedent that gives a county the right to enter into a tidelands lease with a third party and to collect the revenue from the lease as opposed to having the state collect the revenue."

Vitale said Clark's decision "has nothing to do with the rights of Casino World to obtain a tidelands lease like any other casino, provided it makes arrangements to pay the state for the use of the tidelands like any other casino would."

Vitale said, "Casino world looks forward to negotiating an agreement with the Secretary of State with respect to a tidelands lease."

She added, "While it is unfortunate that the Port and Harbor won't be able to receive the fees (the $450,000 that would have been collected) under the lease, Hancock County will do very well because of the tax revenues it will receive and the employment that will be generated once the casino is open."

You should also reprogram services like Call Forwarding, Speed Calling, Call Selector, Preferred Call Forwarding, Speed Calling and Call Block.

Bell South has implemented a customer notification plan that includes newspaper, radio

Hancock student wins scholarship

Brent Necaise of Kiln is a winner in the Mean Cable Scholarship Program.

Necaise attends Hancock High School and intends to major in liberal arts at St. Joseph Seminary College.

Necaise's school and community activities include president of the National Honor Society, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, treasurer of the Key Club, SADD and band.

The Mean Cable Scholarship Program was established to help finance the higher education of children of its employees.

Through the program the company awards scholarships to current college students and promising high school seniors who plan to attend accredited colleges, universities, community colleges, vocational and technical schools or hospital schools of nursing.

The scholarship winners are chosen competitively on the basis of their academic records, participation in school and community activities, work experience and recommendation.

All phases of the scholarship competition are independently managed by Career Opportunities Through Education Inc. (COTE), a national, nonprofit scholarship service organization with extensive experience in the design, development and management of scholarship programs.

COTE is headquartered at 407 South White Horse Pike, Audubon, N.J. 08106.

MDOT issues bond for roads

The Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) has issued $125 million in bonds to help fund improvements to state gaming roads. Transportation Commissioner Ronnie Shows announced recently.

However, county engineer Larry Seal said Hancock County currently is not getting any funding.

"When the Jubilee was up and running at Bayou Caddy, we applied for funding to improve Lower Bay Road and the south end of Beach Boulevard," said Seal. "But, we were told we were way down on the list of priorities. They were concentrating more on improvements to Interstate 10, Highway 90 and the Biloxi connector. Then, when Jubilee shut down, we were out of the running."

All totaled, MDOT will improve approximately 253 miles of highway in and around areas impacted by gaming. Improvements will range from constructing new four-lanes to adding turn lanes and upgrading signals on existing roads.

"Preliminary work by MDOT started on many of these roads as soon as we had the legislative authority to begin, despite a lack of revenue." Shows said. "Issuing bonds allows us to continue progressing with improvements and to keep work on schedule."

Bonds allow a government to raise money without raising taxes. After bonds are issued, individuals may buy those bonds with the promise of a return on their investment. Legislative authority is needed to issue bonds.

In 1994, the Legislature voted to improve state roads in major gaming areas through an, as yet, unfunded, long-term program, which is now commonly referred to as The Gaming Roads Program. Shows said the great need for improved safety and mobility in and around gaming areas prompted MDOT to begin preliminary engineering in fiscal year 1995 on as many gaming highway projects as possible, even though that activity created a deficit.

Funding for the work was not authorized until fiscal year 1996 when legislators designated 25 percent of the eight-cent gaming tax to The Gaming Roads Program and gave MDOT the authority to issue state general obligation bonds to defray costs. In fiscal year 1997, that deficit stood at about $33 million, and projections showed the deficit would continue to grow unless bonds were issued.

Preliminary estimates indicate The Gaming Roads Program is expected to cost more than $1.24 billion, but current projections indicate MDOT will receive only about $609 million in gaming tax revenue.

Bonds issued for The Gaming Roads Program will be paid with revenue generated from gaming taxes.

Today, MDOT is at work on more than 50 gaming roads projects in five separate areas of the state, including streets in Natchez and coastal sections of US 90, US 49, I-10, Highway 43, 603, Highway 67, Cowan/Lorraine Road, Canal Road, and the Biloxi connector. At least 16 projects already have been completed, and MDOT has obligated approximately $183 million in gaming road improvements since the 1994 legislation was enacted.

Mississippi ranks at top in generosity

Secretary of State Eric Clark, whose office oversees charities in Mississippi, cited a national survey showing Mississippians are among the most charitable people in the nation.

According to the Chronicle of Philanthropy (Aug. 27, 1998), a national periodical devoted to charitable giving, Mississippians rank second in the nation in the percentage of adjusted gross income given to charity.

Arkansas ranked number one. The "generosity index" compares two figures: average deductions for charitable contributions, where Mississippi ranks sixth with $3,531 donated per itemized return, and average adjusted gross income, where the state ranks 49th (1996 figures). Americans gave $102.3 billion to charity in 1996.

Clark's office seeks to promote charitable giving and provide information to encourage educated decisions. The Secretary of State's Office registers all charities, receives their financial disclosure information, and investigates violations of the law.

George McCully, trustee of the Ellis L. Phillips Foundation in Boston, is quoted in the article as saying, "The Southeast is extraordinarily generous, not only because of the Bible belt but because we associate warmth and generosity more with Southern cultures than Northeastern cultures."

Clark stressed the importance of making informed decisions about charitable giving.

"There are scam artists out there who seek to take advantage of our generosity," Clark said. "We need to make sure that their tactics don't harm our many good charities."

Any Mississippians with a question about charitable solicitations should call the Secretary of State's Enforcement Division at 601-359-1633 or 800-804-6364.

Business Review

The Sea Coast Echo
Since 1892

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail-order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you are looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday - Friday from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM., or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community.

Marine center revamps field trip program

The Project Marine Discovery field trip program for kindergarten through 12th grade school groups opens with a new look Sept. 12 at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi.

Teachers will have new activities as choices they can use to tailor the aquarium field trip especially for their classes, said Martha Sager, coordinator of educational programs.

PMD programs are 9 a.m.-noon Monday through Thursday during the school year. Groups rotate through four sessions. New activities include "Jolly Jellyfish" for lower elementary, "Just Jellyfish" for middle school groups, "Amphibians" and "Science Fair Tips and Techniques" for middle and high school, and "Conservation Conversation" for high school.

The PMD program will continue to include the aquarium tour and sessions about indoor beachcombing and classification, fish printing, habitats, sharks and crabs. The marine education center also offers PMD ABCs, a 60-minute program that rotates pre-school groups through three 20-minute activities.

Sager said docents — trained volunteer educators — are a mainstay of the popular programs. They lead sessions, provide clerical support and prepare teaching materials for learning activities.

Teachers may reserve dates by calling 228-374-5550.

Gulf Coast Research Laboratory and the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium developed PMD cooperatively in 1987. The marine education center and GCRL are coast campuses of the University of Southern Mississippi's Institute of Marine Science.

TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

Woman's Civil War experience to be recreated on Beauvoir stage

Playwright Kenneth Graham's award-winning drama, "A World Kicked to Pieces: Mary Boykin Chesnut on Love and War," will be performed in the Jefferson Davis Presidential Library theatre at Beauvoir Sept. 17-19.

The play is based on the famous Diary from Dixie by Mary Boykin Chesnut and debuted in 1996 to rave reviews in Mrs. Chesnut's native state of South Carolina. The play was also chosen to be performed at the world-renowned Piccolo Spoleto Festival in Charleston.

Long a favorite of scholars and Civil War enthusiasts because of her published diary, Mary Boykin Chesnut gained further notoriety with the publication of Dr. C. Vann Woodward's Pulitzer Prize winning book, Mary Chesnut's Civil War in 1982.

Newsweek called Chesnut's account "one of the best firsthand records of the Confederate experience," and The New Republic called it "one of the most remarkable eye-witness accounts to emerge from that or any other war."

Her writings include intrigue, romance, political hijinks, horrors and humor.

She writes not only from the vantage of plantation life but from the perspective of a governor's daughter and a wife of a Confederate general.

As such, she was at the center of the South's political and social life, and she lived, at different times during the war, in Alabama, Virginia and the Carolinas.

These diverse experiences and perspectives, portrayed so vividly in her writings, are, likewise, reflected in the play.

Mary Chesnut is played by Chris Weatherhead, a leading theatre, television and film actress, as well as the co-founder of The Actor's Theatre of South Carolina. According to Weatherhead, "I've had the privilege of playing many historical women, but the combination of passion, wit and intelligence in this woman is astounding. Her words and thoughts burn through her pen onto the page. She refuses to be pigeonholed or categorized... you can't quite pin her down and every time you think you've got her, she'll reveal another side you're forced to consider."

Whitehead has received high acclaim for her performance. According to Jeffrey Day of The State (Columbia, S.C.), "Mary Chesnut is a delightful woman to spend a couple of hours with... thoroughly entertaining, nerve-racking and charming as created by actress Chris Weatherhead, director of Clarence Felder, and playwright Kenneth Graham."

Felder is a native South Carolinian and actor in his own right in Broadway shows, television series and films.

Award-winning playwright and Columbia, S.C. native Kenneth Graham spent four years in researching and writing the play that would span the entire North-South conflict and showcase the multi-faceted and enigmatic Mary Chesnut.

Advance tickets are $10 per person for the general public and $8 per person for members of Friends of Beauvoir. All tickets are $12 at the door.

For information or to order tickets, call the Beauvoir ticket office at (228) 388-9074 or 1-800-570-3818.

Beauvoir, the Jefferson Davis Home and Presidential Library is a national historic landmark property of the Mississippi Division, United Sons of Confederate Veterans, located on Hwy. 90 in Biloxi.
